

How to Tie a Woggle

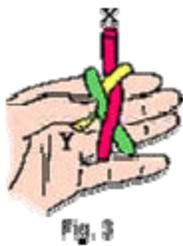

A step-by-step guide to tying the Turk's Head knot, the neckerchief slide used in Wood Badge

Place the braid around three fingers of the left hand, palm up. The working end of the braid known as "X" and the stationary end as "Y". Make it rather tight.

Bring end x over the stationary end Y (fig 1) and around the back of the hand.

Thread end x over and to the right, then under and back to the left of Y, thus forming figure 3.

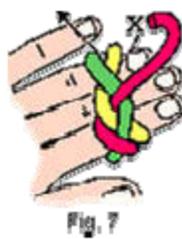

Turn the hand over, palm down.

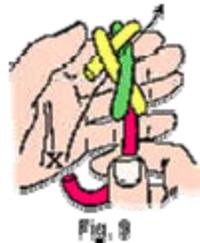

Loop A over B and B under A. Hold in position by placing the forefinger of the left hand between A and B.

Thread end X under B through the crisscross loop thus formed by A and B.

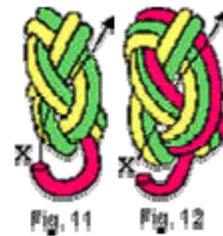

Thread end X under B (fig 6) over A and under B again (fig 7-8).

Turn the hand over, palm up (fig 9). Bring end X along side of and parallel to end Y by threading the strand under A and over B (fig 9-10). Follow the direction of the dotted arrow. Your first "cycle" is finished!

Finish your Turk's head by following this strand around three times; i.e., until there are three braided strands parallel to each other all around the slide (figs 10, 11, 12)

The second time around is indicated in fig 11 as well as the beginning of the third time around in Fig 12. Yellow indicates first time, green second time and red third time around. You need a neat, even neckerchief slide.

If needed, take in the slack from time to time so that there will be a sufficient amount of material to complete the slide.

Adjust the slide so that it will be neat as well as the right size. It will be necessary to remove the slide from the fingers when you thread end X around the for second and third time (fig 11-12).
